Housewives everywhere prefer Nationaline birchwood cabinets because of their rich, warm beauty and modern convenience. The style shown here combines beauty and work-saving efficiency. Handy finger wells replace conventional door and drawer handles, giving the cabinets long, sweeping, unbroken lines. Adjustable shelves, easy-gliding drawers, swing-out mixer shelves and wire vegetable bins are just a few of the "extras" in Nationaline birchwood cabinets.

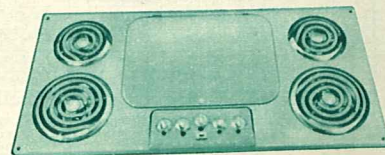

Best of all is the wood itself. Strong — beautiful — easy to care for. Wax it once a year and forget it. It never shows fingerprints. Only the finest hardwoods and hardwood plywoods are used. Interior cleats do away with nails on exposed surfaces. All joints are tongue-in-groove, corner-blocked for extra rigidity. Your Nationaline birchwood kitchen is built to last for generations — and you can bet it will.

Wood wall cabinets are 12½" overall depth; Steel wall cabinets are 13" deep. Nos. NX-3012 to NX-3042, including NX-3023, Corner Wall Cabinets, have three spacious sections each for storage. The MR, ML and 4D series have the upper of two shallow drawers divided for cutlery, and the large drawers marked with (m) are of metal and are vermin-proof for storage of pastries and flour. All wood base cabinets are 23" deep and steel base cabinets are 24½" deep.

The NX-CB44RD and LD, although 42" wide, require a minimum 44" of floor space when used in 'L' shaped kitchens.

The No. NX-TR12 in the wood cabinets is for storage of trays.

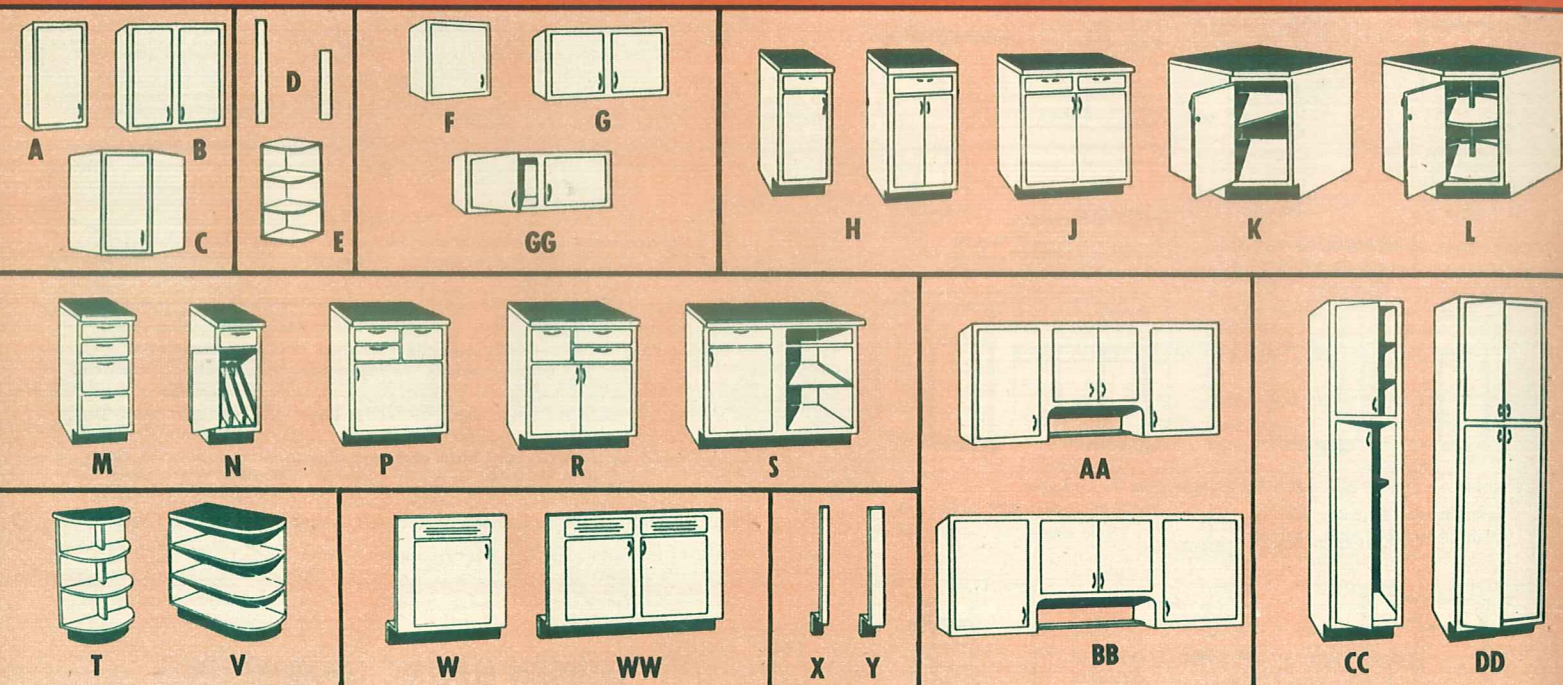

Styled Divider Unit and Base Shelves lend a taste of modern appointment to the kitchen. NATIONALINE sink fronts are designed to hide all under-sink fittings—the extra wide rails to be trimmed on the job to insure tight wall-to-wall fitting of the base cabinets. HOW TO FIGURE SIZES—Height is first two numbers, width is second two numbers. For example 3012 means 30" high, 12" wide. Base cabinets, sink fronts and fillers show width only.
